ORAL HEALTH IN ADDICTION

- The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) notes that, in 2014, 10.2 percent of Americans, ages 12 and older, reported some type of illicit substance abuse in the past month.
- Many people think drug abuse only damages the lungs, stomach, heart, or brain
- Many types of drugs damage the teeth and gums.
- People who struggle with addiction often neglect oral hygiene because they cannot afford a dentist or they simply stop caring about brushing their teeth.

DRUGS THAT AFFECT ORAL HEALTH

- Alcohol
- Cocaine
- Amphetamines
- Opioids and Opiates
- Marijuana
- Tobacco
- Over the counter medications:
  - Antihistamines & Aspirin

WHAT DRUGS DO TO YOUR TEETH

THERE ARE SEVERAL WAYS THAT EACH DRUG CAN, INDIVIDUALLY, DAMAGE ORAL HEALTH.

- Dry mouth, which increases acid in the mouth and leads to rotting enamel
- Acid reflux, which also rots enamel and hurts soft tissue
- Grinding teeth
- Loss of blood flow to roots and gums
- Ulcers or sores in the mouth that can become infected
- A focus on attaining more drugs instead of caring for oral hygiene
- Nutritional deficiencies that can damage teeth and gums
- Greater intake of high-sugar food or beverages, which rots teeth
